LOVE BIRDS

Crochet Pattern

Before we get into the pattern, here is a small letter from me!

Hello there!

I'm so excited that you've joined the Spring Market Event!

If we already know each other—hi again! So happy to have you here! YAY! ☐

If we haven't met yet, here's a quick intro (because let's be real, we're all busy!): I love crochet, and if you're here, I'm guessing you do too! But my true passion? Amigurumi! Designing and crocheting toys brings me so much joy, and I love sharing that through my patterns.

On LittleCrochetFarm.com, you'll find new free patterns every week! They're always available for free on my website, and some, like this one, are also offered as nicely formatted ad-free PDFs with extra photos to guide you.

If you enjoy this pattern and want even more free PDF downloads, plus some handy amigurumi resources, I'd love for you to join my newsletter! I send out my latest free pattern every week, and my emails are always conversational (so if you reply, yes, I'll actually respond!).

Now, I'll leave you to the pattern—I hope you love it! And if you ever have questions, just send me an email! I'd love to hear from you.

Happy crocheting & have a great weekend!

Ana

- Leave a small tail for sewing
- Make another one following the same instructions.

TAIL FEATHERS

1 row 2sc, 1hdc, 6hdc in the last chain, turning the detail and continue working on the other side of the chain, 1hdc, 2sc

- Cut the yarn and fasten it off.
- Make another one following the same instructions.
- Leave a small tail for sewing it later.

With blue yarn chain 7. Skip the first chain and start,

FEATHER TUFT

With light pink yarn, chain 7. Skip the first chain and then:

- Do not cut the yarn. Instead, continue by repeating the same instructions:

Chain 7, skip the first chain, then make 1 inc, 1 inc, 4 sc.

- See images below for guidance.
- Repeat this process once more without cutting the yarn. You should now have 3 strands of "feathers."
- Cut the yarn and fasten it off, leaving a small tail for sewing later.

ASSEMBLY

1. Sew the tail feathers as shown in the images below.
2. Attach the wings between rounds 11 and 16, positioning them slightly upward. Ensure there are about 12 stitches of space between the wings when viewed from the front.
3. Using black thread, embroider the eyes on round 8, leaving a 5-stitch gap between them. Add a small white line on the outer edge of each eye for detail.
4. Embroider the beak with orange thread, placing it one round below the eyes in the center stitch.
5. Sew the feather tuft on top of the head.
6. Use blue yarn to embroider small "V" shapes as shown in the images below.
